QUESTION 4

4.1 Wounds or injury✓ inflicted on oneself✓ (2)

4.2 Note to assessor:
Open for interpretation but must have the logical points listed below. Synonyms are allowed:

The aim of burglary is usually to steal valuable objects.✓
It is unlikely that burglars would go upstairs and murder the family.✓
Van Breda suffered only minor injuries, while his family members were brutally attacked. ✓
5 × ✓ for other reasons that make logical sense. (3 + 5) (8)

4.3
- Alcohol
- Drugs
- Firearms

(These for 3 marks (I mark each), then combined with the 2 marks below to get to a mark out of 5)

Logical reasons such as the following:
- These factors increase the risk of violent offending.
- These factors impair good judgement.
- These increase risky behaviour without regard for consequences.

(Any 2 × 1) (5)

4.4 Van Breda firmly believes that he and his family were attacked by a burglar.✓ This could be due to mental illness✓ or an ability to delude himself.✓ Based on the lack of empathy he showed after the attacks, he could, furthermore, be a psychopath.✓✓ (5)

SECTION D

QUESTION 5

5.1 Note to assessor: the gist of the argument is reflected in the issues below. Students are expected to embroider. Award marks for relevant analyses.

Traditionally, public health interventions are focused on three levels of prevention, namely:

Primary prevention✓
Secondary prevention✓
Tertiary prevention✓

Traditionally, these strategies for primary prevention and reduction of crime from a public health perspective place more emphasis on the victims of violence,✓ while secondary and tertiary prevention efforts are also applied to the perpetrators of violence.✓

Researchers in the field of violence prevention have increasingly moved to focusing on prevention strategies that target specific groups of interest.✓ (15)

5.2 Note to assessor: the gist of the argument is reflected in the issues below. Students are expected to embroider. Award marks for relevant discourse.

Context✓
It provides investigative direction towards what the police must be on the lookout for in the suspect.✓

Connections✓
A possible relationship between the offender and victim could be established.✓

Investigative direction✓
This information could also be used to warn potential victims.✓ (3) + (4 × 3) (15)
